There's a huge difference between a one-time, blockbuster event and an on-going, transformational men's ministry.

One has high emotional value and catalytic energy, but lacks staying power. The other requires intelligence and intentionality and has the potential for long-lasting results.

As Kenny Luck puts it, "One transformed man transforms many things." So too, a vital men's ministry can make an exponential impact on your church and community.

According to Kenny, transformation doesn't happen overnight; however, leaders who take the long view and concentrate on doing a few things well, reap the rewards!

Join CCN and Saddleback Church's Kenny Luck to learn the keys to building an exceptional men's ministry.

Discover the four cornerstones of a strong ministry:

- Strong "funnels" for gathering men.
- A spiritual pathway or process.
- A relational infrastructure of leaders.
- A mission aligned with the vision of the local church.

When it comes to men's ministry, don't forget the essentials!
